INTENDED HUSBAND WILL BE BEST MAN.

Frank Hicks Wins Wife on Battle field, but Comes Near Losing Her.

ST. HELENA PRISONER OF WAR.

Father Keeps His Word With Brave Suitor for His Daughter's Hand-Love Would Not Be Thwarted.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Providence, R. I., July 28 .- The marriage of Miss Viola Porter of this city to Thomas D. Winsor of Rockland, R. I., set for August 12 is off. On that day Miss Porter will become the wife of Frank Leontine Hicks of Pittsburg, and Mr. Winsor has consented to serve as best man.

It is a queer story. Hicks, three years ago, was an avowed aspirant for Miss Porter's hand, and was entirely acceptable to her parents except for one thing. He was thought to have consumption, and Mr. Porter said he would not consent to the mar-riage for that reason, but if Hicks would himself of the disease he would con-

Hicks endeavored to enlist for the Spanish-American war, thinking the outdoor life would benefit him, but was rejected by the doctors. He went away to a sanitarium and remained until about the time the Boer war broke out. Then Mr. Porter sent Hicks word that if the young man would join the Boer forces and serve to the end of the war he would parmit the marriege the young couple would permit the marriage the young couple would permit the marriage the young couple so much desired.

"If you can undergo the hardships of soldering out there you can stand anything," said he. "My promise shall hold good. No man with consumption could range those kopies. I pledge you my word that she shall be yours if you come back safe and sound."

that she shall be yours if you come back safe and sound."

The young woman also approved the plan, seeing in it the only hope she had of gaining the husband she wanted.

Hade Prissner of War.

Hicks started at once for South Africa and fought with honor and enthusiasm until he was captured by the British. With the others he went to St. Helena, and there was lost track of, not being permitted to write home. Finally David Norton of Central Falls, R. I., came home from South Africa and reported Hicks dead. For a long time the Porter family refused to believe the news, but at last accepted if as true. Miss Porter then became engaged to Winsor and the wedding was set for last June, but at the last moment Mr. Porter asked for a postponement. He did not want any mistakes. "I gave the boy my solemn word," he said, "and I would like some positive proof of death before I give Viola to some other man."

Again the wedding was set for August II

tive proof of death before I give Viola to some other man."

Again the wadding was set for August II and invitations were issued. Last Thursday Hicks arrived in Providence and went at once to the Porter home. He had just returned from St. Helena, whence he was released by order of Lord Roberts, at the request of the commandant, who had learned Hicks's story.

There was a family council and Winsor, cheated of his bride, warmly congratulated his rival and asked the honor of serving as best man at the wedding.

EXILED DANE DEAD.

Playmate of King Christian Passes Away at St. Joseph, Mo. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

St. Joseph, Mo., July 28.-Frederick C. Waddle, a wealthy Dane, who for twentyfive years has been a recluse near this city, died to-day, aged 71 years.

Indisputable evidence was produced by the family of the dead man to-day, showing his exalted birth and that he was the playmate and companion of the present King Christian, ruler of Denmark.

The father of Mr. Waddle was the counsellor of the present King's father, and, in 1850, when the King decided upon rigorous measure of oppression of his subjects, his counsellor decli. ed to obey the royal orders, and in consequence was banished with his family and his estates confiscated.

The elder Waddle died in Chicago, soon after arriving in this country.

TORNADO IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Church, Store and Dwellings De molished-Crops Damaged.

Fargo, N. D., July 21.-A heavy wind an ranistorm prevailed this afternoon over a good part of the State, and the greatest damage is reported at Tappen, one hundamage is reported at Tappen, one hundred and twenty-five miles west of Fargo, where it amounted to a tornado.

A church, a store and some dwellings and some barns were blown down and the Northern Pacific depot unroofed. Wires were down for some hours and crops in the path of the storm, which was several miles wide, were destroyed.

In the Red River Valley rain fell from the national boundary line all the way down the State line. In the northern part there was not so much wind, but around Fargo and over in Minnesota crops were damaged, but just how seriously it is impossible to determine to-night.

CHOATE AS MEDIATOR.

Rumor That Kruger Has Asked Him to Act in That Capacity.

London, July 29.-United States Ambassa dor Choate has left London for Holland, says the Dally Express, not for a holiday but—so rumor states—at the invitation of Mr. Kruger, who desires him to act as mediator in bringing about a settlement. It would naturally be supposed that a settlement could not take place without the irrepressible Doctor Leyds, but if Mr. Choate has gone to Holland, Doctor Leyds has left the country for Brussels, starting Saturday. No importance is attached to this rumor by the Daily Express, for the paper re-fers to it editorially in a facetious vein, as a "Bouth African gooseberry."

PUBLIC PRAYERS FOR RAIN.

Farmers in Mississippi Bottoms in Hard Straits.

Alto Pass, Ill., July 28.-Prayer in public Alto Pass, Ill., July 28.—Prayer in public for rain was offered for the first time here to-day in the Congregational Church by the Reverend F. B. Hines of the Southern Illinois Collegiate Institute. There is no relief yet from the drought.

Farmers in the Mississippi bottoms say they will not have enough corn to feed their stock, and refuse to sell their old corn at any price. The oldest resident here cannot remember a drought so prolonged and destructive as the present one. Merchants say that Irish potatoes will be at least $2 per bushel next winter.

NINE DEATHS FROM HEAT.

The woman spent the evening at home and retired early. About 11 o'clock she was found in her room in a semiconscious condition, and on a table was found a phial containing laudanum. The family can assign no cause for the woman's action.

TRIED TO RESCUE SWEETHEART

Louisville Man Gave Up His Life to Save a Woman.

Louisville, Ky., July 28.—It developed that Max Belovitch, the cigar manufacturer who lost his life in the fire that destroyed the Badgely-Graham Photographic Supply store at 349 West Jefferson street last night, dashed up the stairs to save the life of a young woman to whom he was greatly attached, and, who, he thought, was in a flat above.

Policeman James Purdon, who also lost his life, went upstairs in the burning building in an effort to save Belovitch.

Fire Chief Timothy Lehan, Fireman Burnett Hardin, Charles Keller, Charles Brown and Harry Swain and Policeman John Hepp were injured either by being overcome by heat or smoke or by falling into the cellar of the burning building. None of them is serjously hurt.

The fire, which is supposed to have been caused by an explosion of chemicals, completely gutted the photographic supply store of the Badgely-Graham Company, causing a loss of 38,500, did $5,000 of damage to the stock of W. D. Gatchell & Son, photographic supply store on the east; $12,000 damage to the stock of the Stewart Dry Goods Company, east of Gatchell's, and $1,000 damage to the stock of the Stewart Dry Goods Company, east of Gatchell's, and $1,000 damage to the Creamerle Restaurant, west of the Badgely-Graham store. All these losses are fully or nearly covered by insurance.

The building in which these firms did business was damaged to the extent of $40,000.

FEAST OF PORTIUNCULA. Those Who Observed It Will Gain

Indulgence. The Feast of Portiuncula, which is observed annually by the Roman Catholic Church, will begin at 2 o'clock next Thursday afternoon and continue until 7 o'clock day afternoon and continue until 7 o'clock in the svening of the next day.

Among the churches at which the feast will be observed are St. Anthony's, St. Bridget's and St. Teresa's.

All those who observe the feast gain an indulgence which consists in the full remission of temporal punishment due to sin; but only after the remission of all sins for which eternal punishment is the reward. Beveral indulgences may be gained by the same person during the feast.

The feast had its origin at Assisi, in Italy in the Thirteenth Century, where St. Francis, founder of the Franciscan order, built, with his own hands, a church which he named Portiuncula. Afterward he induced the Pope to grant a plenary indulgence to those who entered his church. The church became a shrine to which pilgrimages were made by the faithful and the feast was subsequently extended to other churches.

The Portiuncula of St. Francis still stands within an edifice which was built in the Sixteenth Century.

PROBABLE NEW TOWNSITES. Nine Points Recommended by Commission May Be Selected. REPUBLIC SPECIAL Washington, July 28.-The Secretary of the interior has been advised that everything is in readiness for the drawing of homesteads in the Klowa-Commanche Reservation.

Commissioner Richards has wired the department that some 1,000 names, 500 for the El Reno district and 500 for the Lawton district, will be placed in the box Monday. On Tuesday he states about 2,500 names will be drawn and it is probable that in a week the drawing will be completed. Mr. Richards reports that everything is orderly on the Reservation.

The Commissioner has reported the names of nine town sites out of fourteen examined in the El Reno district. The places recommended are Bridgeport, Caddo and Fort Cobb on the Choctaw railroad; Richards, a new town at Cache Creek; a town site on Elk Creek, near Hobart; a site twenty miles southeast of Hobart. These will be considered by the department and probably approved. in readiness for the drawing of homesteads

GERMANY A FIGHT.

Prospects for a Bitter Tariff War Discussed by a European Diplomat.

COUNT VON BUELOW'S POSITION

Is Between Russia on the One Hand and the Agrarian Party on the Other-Project May Be Sop to Latter.

SPECIAL BY CABLE. Berlin, July 28.-The tariff project, which was published in all the papers yesterday morning, is an open declaration of commerclal war with Russia, Austria and the United States, but Count von Buelow knows that the Bundesrath will not confirm it. It is, therefore, a cleverly conceived sor to the agrarians, intended merely to show his sympathy for them. Commerce means everything in Germany's future relations with Russia. Count von Buclow, as is well known, and as it has been shown in The old-time good relations with Russia, That can only be accomplished by the maintenance of good trade relations; but maintenance of good trade relations; but what is happening?

I have had the advantage of talking over the possibilities of the future trade relations between Germany and Russia with a gentleman whose duty it is to know all about the matter.

From what I gathered, the outlook is anything but propitious. I will endeavor to epitomize the above-mentioned authority's statements.

statements.

Count Von Buelow has now to face the biggest difficulty he has ever encountered. It is to reconcile the demands of Russia for favorable treatment in the forthcoming treaty of commerce and, at the same time, to meet the urgent demands for protection made by the Agrarians, a most powerful party, which is composed of the most solid supporters of the crown.

For months and months past the German Chancellor has been struggling against the Bupporters of the crown.

For months and months past the German Chancellor has been struggling against the well-organized efforts of the Agrarians. Hitherto Russian wheat has paid a duty of 3½ marks. In the future it will pay from 5 to 5½ marks. Cattle and horses will also be subjected to much heavier taxation, but this will affect Austria and the United States much more than Russia.

It is the wheat tax which will hit Russia so hard, and which will undoubtedly call forth from M. Witte a very stiff counter duty upon a multitude of cheap manufactured goods, with which Germany fleeds Russia, just as she does other countries.

M. Witte is not a very accommodating man, and he will hit back very hard, all the more so as Russia has done so much to build up an important grain trade with Germany. The diminution of such trade will inflict a very hard blow upon the carrying trade which is necessary for the prosperity of the daily increasing railroad system of the Empire.

Thus, Germany will find countervailing duties imposed upon her manufacturers, particularly upon the curious small things.

Thus, Germany will find countervaling duties imposed upon her manufacturers, particularly upon the curious small things which aggregate to large financial totals, such as purses, celluloid collars, shirt fronts and a thousand other things sold cheaply in second-rate shops all over Russia.

cheaply in second-rate shops all over Russia.

The new tariff does not, my informant says, come into action until the month of December, 1903, so that there is plenty of time for the two countries to try to arrange some "modus vivendi."

In the meantime, the outlook is as bad as possible, and this pot only applies to Russia, but to Germany's allies, Austria and Italy, and to a very marked degree to the United States. AS VIENNA SEES IT.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY'S SON ON THE INQUIRY

Says the Whole Truth Would Injure the Reputations of Persons Other Than His Father.

Salt Lake, Utah, July 28 .- The Herald tonorrow will print the following:

"Captain Thomas F. Schley, eldest son of Admiral Winfield S. Schley, who is stationed at Fort Douglas in this city, yester-day outlined some points that will be brought out in the court of inquiry as to brought out in the court of inquiry as to his father's conduct at the battle of Santiago. He declared that some startling facts will be brought to light if the whole truth shall become known, and that the reputations of persons other than his father are likely to suffer.

"I have just written to my father,' said Captain Schley yesterday, 'that I thought he ought to spare nobody and that he should withhold none of the facts in his possession about Admiral Sampson or anybody else."

Captain Schley is an officer of the Twenty-captain Schley is an officer of the Twenty-third Infantry in command at Fort Douglas. Although he has not had a letter from his father since the court of inquiry, he is familiar with the question at issue and pointed out some of the facts that will be urged in the Admiral's defense.

"When the court of inquiry meets," said Captain Schley. "I would like to have the privilege of asking Admiral Sampson just one question: "If the battle of Santiago had resulted in defeat, to whom would the blame have been attached? made to saddle the responsibility on my father. The fact is that he has a letter from Admiral Sampson telling him to do exactly what he did, and this letter will be produced at the inquiry. At that time he was maintaining the blockade off Clenfuegos. Secretary Long wired Admiral Sampson, strongly advising that the blockading fleet go to Santlago, in the hope of finding the Spanish fleet there.

"Admiral Sampson sent the dispatch to Admiral Sampson sent the dispatch to Admiral Schley with a note, in which he said: 'After duly considering this telegram, I have decided to make no change in the present plans; that is, you should hold your squadron off Clenfuegos.'

"This letter was suppressed."

Brocklyn's Maneuvers.

Regarding the maneuvers of the Brocklyn at the time of the battle, Captain Schley says the facts all go to show this was the best possible move under the circumstances. The part played by the Brocklyn in the battle certainly compares favorably with that of the New York, he thinks.

"If this inquiry is full and fair," declared Captain Schley, "some facts will be disclosed that will startle the public. My father has several strong cards up his sleeve, and I trust he will make use of them all."

Captain Schley enlisted in the army in 1834, and was appointed a Second Lieutenant in the Twenty-third Infantry seven years later. He has served with his regiment all through its campaigns in the Philippines, where he earned his captaincy, Since his return from the Philippines he has been stationed at Fort Douglas.

The roads will be used in connection with the plan to get absolute control of the city and urban rallway situation in Detroit.

PANAMA INSURGENTS ACTIVE.

Citizens Ordered to Concentrate to Repel Attacks.

Kingston, Jamaica, July 28.—Newspaper reports received here from Panama assert that the insurgents are operating in large numbers in the vicinity of the city, and that an order has been issued by the Government calling upon the citizens to concentrate in order to repel attacks and to protect property. Panama is guarded from the sea by a gunboat.

According to the same source of information, the Government is exercising the stricted precautions to prevent many of strictest precautions to prevent news of developments leaking out.

CARBOLIC ACID THROWER.

Who Refused to Marry Him. Muncie, Ind., July 28.—Peter Tilibury, an ironworker, called at the home of Kate Phinney to-night and threw the contents of a small bottle filled with carbolic acid into the fame of Mrs. Mary Torrey, a guest, burning out the woman's eyes and injuring her neck, arms and breast frightfully. The man has pleaded with the woman to marry him for years,

TO EUROPE IN FOUR DAYS WITHOUT COAL.

Hoboken Engineer Claims a Discovery Which Would Revolutionize Locomotion.

DEPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, July 28,-"To Europe in four days without coal, at half the present expense for fuel to drive an ocean steamer." is what a Hoboken engineer claims for his new process of burning a very little petroleum with 85 per cent of red-hot compressed

Charles A. Kuenzel is his name, and his told a plain story to-night, which others who had seen the machine working corrob orated. They said that after years periment a little discovery patented a few weeks ago, had solved the long-sought problem of making a nonexplosive gas out of petroleum and air, which burned like ox ygen, and which a child can use and conygen, and which a child can use and control without the slightest danger from explosion or suffocation. This new force, to run steamships, railways, automobiles and machinery was a dry gas, the first, it was asserted, ever produced in practical quantifies.

"We have proved all our claims," said the inventor, "perfected our patents and put the gas to a practical test with such success that a naval engineer has been detailed by the United States Government to lock into it. He visited our machine shop in Hoboken recently, inspected every feature of the machinery while it was working, and took notes and copies of the plans, on which to prepare a report for the Government."

One of the gentlemen who was present was asked what the naval expert had to say during his inspection.

"Very little," was the reply. "To talk would have been a breach of discipline but he looked pleased, and one of our men heard him say that he wished he owned the patent."

TRANSFORM A DANCE HALL INTO CHURCH.

Once Notorious Resort Frequented by Bowery Characters Scene of Religious Services.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. New York, July 28.-When "Billy" Mc-Glory's notorious Armory Hall was under the esplonage of the police, some years ago, and few of the habitues dared to enter the place where they formerly reveled, the proprietor gazed in astonishment whe a party of friends walked in one night. Waving his hands, he said, in his choices sarcastic voice:

"Aw, don't come in here if you want fun This place is a church now, and me, Billy McGlory, is the preachers, the congrega-tion and everything but the fellow what passes of the collection plate."

He lived to see the day when gospel serv-ices were held in the big hall. It may have been the memory of this which impelled Edward B. Correy to make a church of the Haymarket. The swirl transformation was made to-night, but Correy was not there made to-night, but Correy was not there to witness it, or to act in any of the capacities named by McGlory. He had done his part in giving the use of the hall to the Reverend Joseph Jones, the acting superintendent of the Cremorne Mission. Mr. Jones and those who aided him in the first religious services ever held in the dance hall prayed for Correy, and pleaded he should be led to see the error of his ways. If any of the 700 persons who thronged the dance hall had come to scoff, none did so openly. Any one who knows the Haymarket as a dance hall would have imagined he was in the wrong building. On the waxed floor, usually crowded with flashily dressed women, dancing, chairs had been placed. Every one was filled with most respectable men and women, most of the latter having passed their youth.

Now a House of Worship.

On the stage, where the band holds forth nightly, were Mr. Jones and his fellow workers, with haif a dozen young women from the choir of the Madison Square Church Home. On the tables in the gallery boxes, which are usually littered with glasses filled with champagne, whisky or beer, was a pamphlet on which was printed the hymns to be sung. Never had the hail had such a sedate, sober, earnest assemblage, such as may be seen in any house of worship.

In his prayer, the Reverend George S. Avery, the superintendent of the New York Christian Home, thanked God "for the privilege accorded us to come to this place, which has been consecrated and dedicated to the world's pleasures and the world's sin. May God save the manager of this place, and if there is any poor, wayward soul here to-

God save the manager of this place, and if there is any poor, wayward soul here tonight, may she be saved."

After Mr. Jones had said the final prayer the meeting ended with the announcement that another would be held on next Sunday night. As the assemblage was leaving "Chuck" Conners was seen leaning against one of the pillars. As a friend approached "Chuck's" face was the picture of amagement.

GAY BOSTON GIRLS SHOCKED VILLAGERS.

Garbed in Boisterous Red Bathing Suits, They Drove Through Streets in an Ice Wagon.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Brant Rock, Mass., July 28.-A party of eight Boston girls, in bright red bathing suits, perched on an ice wagon, created a sensation here yesterday, but indignation among the villagers is even greater than last year when summer girls in bathing suits went to Post Office for their mail. The young women, who are spending the summer months in Duxbury, started to walk here yesterday afternoon. The suits were cut in the latest pattern, with red stockings, kid slippers with French heels and colored shoestrings. The young women met an ice wagon and took seats on the canvas that covered the ice, protecting it from the rays of the sun, and proceeded to make things lively for the iceman, who was the object of many remarks from persons whom he met.

"How'd you like to be the Iceman?" yelled the small boys along the road.

Arriving here they drove through the square, but the iceman got such a broadsule of remarks that he dumped his fair load. The girls in red were not to be dismayed. "Lets have some ice cream," said one, and all pushed into the Ocean House. The

COEDS VICTORIOUS.

Women Will Be Admitted to Rush Medical College.

Chicago, Ill., July 28.—Two important changes in the policy of Rush Medical College were announced to-day by President Harper.

The first innovation is the introduction of coeducation into the medical school. Hereafter women will be admitted to the freshman and sophomore classes on an equal footing with men.

The second change is the entire rejection in the medical college of the quarterly system upon which the university is founded.

Under the present plan the courses are three months in length, with an examination at the end of the quarter. If the student passes this examination he may not be held again responsible for the work.

The new plan will include a final examination at the completion of the course on the work of the two years previous.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES ON THE MARRIAGE AGE.

Oliver Wendell Holmes, in the course of a letter to a young friend, who had married, wrote:

"I do, indeed, congratulate you on changing your isolated condition into the beatific state of duality. The very moment one feels that he is falling into the old age of youth—which I take to be from 25 to 26, in most cases—he must not daily any longue; the first era of his life is fairly closed, and he may live half his bright days over again if 'woman's pure kias, sweet and long, comes only to his lips before it is too late. If he waits till the next epoch of life begins, there is great danger lest he marry his wite as a jockey buys a horse—sensibly, shrewdy and merely as a convenience in his demectic operations."

FICHUS TO BE WORN WITH LOW-NECKED GOWNS.

It has been exceedingly difficult to get fichus which were pretty and not very elaborate. The greater number to be found are made of fine net and lace, and with ends falling well below the waist, even the most simple of them. This new fiche is charming. It is of the finest and settent of muil, with a silky finish, hemstitches around the edges, and with a corner of French embroidery on the point which is uppermost in the kerchlef-for it is rather more correctly this than a fichu-and on the lower point, inside the hamstitching there is more of the embroidery in a manuace and longer spray, coming around to the front when the kerchlef is in tiace. Them pretty neck squares are $2.55. The ends do not fall more than maif way to the valiet. It has been exceedingly difficult to get
